A Case of TRICKERY

MRS. O'CONNOR was bustling about the house and Candy was helping to get everything in order when Ted barged in. "What's buzzin', cousin?" he asked. "What brought on the big cleaning spree?"

"Company," grimaced Candy, taking Ted aside so that her mother wouldn't hear what she said. "Some horrible woman that mom knew years ago is coming by with her sonny boy. I think it's going to be gruesome."

"Will it interfere with our date for the dance tonight?" asked Ted.

"Not if I can help it," replied Candy. Then gesturing for Ted to be on his way, she added, "I have to help mom now but drop by about two this afternoon and give me an excuse to break away, huh?"

"Sure," grinned Ted. "I'll be here."

The house was in apple pie order and Candy and her mother were neat and ready when Mrs. Morgan and her son Todd arrived at noon. Candy stared from the window at the long, shining convertible and the fellow who was driving it. Could this be the boy her mother had told her about? She had expected to see a brat of about ten, not a tall handsome young man of twenty. She rushed to the mirror to put an extra pat to her hair. She hadn't expected to see anyone so exciting.

The four had lunch at the O'Connors. Todd turned his entire attention to Candy. He talked while she listened. He told of his great achievements in high school and of his stupendous popularity in college. He bragged about his special talents in sports. He discussed his tailor made clothes. He made slight mention of how girls annoyed him, trying to get dates. Candy was impressed. She actually forgot about Ted in her enthusiasm for Todd Morgan. And she was about to have a ride in the sleek convertible when Ted walked up the street.

"Hi, Candy," he beamed. "I came by to keep our date for this afternoon and—"

"I'm sorry," replied Candy snobbishly, "but can't you see that I'm busy? I told you we were having guests."

She introduced the two fellows and then excused herself to rush into the house for a wrap. But as she looked back and saw them talking together, she thought, "There's absolutely no comparison. Ted's never grown up. Todd is quite a man."

Trish came along about that time. Ted made the introduction. And the three stood beside the convertible—Trish and Ted and Todd. But Todd did all the talking. He boasted about his car. He made a big point of the fact that he dated debs in the city. He referred to the fact that most of them were rich.

When Candy came to join them, she smiled at Ted and said, "I'm sorry but I won't see you tonight. I'm taking Todd to the dance."

As the big car sped away, Trish and Ted looked at each other with upturned noses. "Whew," remarked Ted. "What a conceited character."

"A goon man, if you ask me," remarked Trish. "If Candy wants him, she can have him."

"Hey, not so fast," protested Ted. "Do you think I want that dope cutting in on my territory? I've already lost my date for the dance tonight."

Trish had promised to go with Dean. "But Cornelia's free," she said to Ted. "I heard her say that she wasn't going to the dance and it's probably because no one has asked her. So that's your chance!"

"Me take Cornelia Clyde?" objected Ted. "You know I can't stand that snooty babe!"

"Neither can I," smiled Trish. "But ask her anyway. Remember that birds of a feather flock together. And leave everything to me. We'll try a little trickery."

Ted saw the twinkle in Trish's eye and knew that she was to be trusted. So he invited Cornelia to the dance and was accepted. And that night, he had to admit to himself that Cornelia looked beautiful even if she was big-headed and a bore. Candy was dancing with Todd organ and seemed to be completely absorbed in his charming ways. But when Trish sidled up to talk to Cornelia, Ted saw that she was working out a plan and excused himself for the moment.

"This friend of Candy's," Trish explained, "is very wealthy and has a big car and—" She rambled on and on and could see that Cornelia was impressed and was ready to stop at nothing to get him away from Candy. Then, when she saw Candy go to the powder room, Trish talked to Todd. "That's Cornelia Clyde over there," she said, nodding to the girl who was watching out of the corner of her eye. "She comes from the finest family in town. They're rolling in money. And she would like to meet you."

Todd asked to be introduced and Trish did the honors. When Candy returned, Todd and Cornelia were dancing together and seemed smitten with each other.

"Well, I like that," scoffed Candy. "If he hasn't any better sense than to go for her—"

"I didn't want to bring her, Candy," explained Ted, "but you let me down and she was all that was left."

"We'll leave them both," declared Candy with her nose tilted in the air. "I don't care for either of them."

So Candy and Ted spent the rest of the evening at the dance together and Trish watched and enjoyed the results of her case of trickery.

...and I'll Prove How EASILY You Can Have It!

Charles Atlas

Awarded the title of "The World's Most Perfectly Developed Man."

JUST tell me where you want it—and I'll add SOLID INCHES of powerful new muscle SO FAST your friends will grow bug-eyed with wonder!

Do you want me to broaden your shoulders—put trip-hammer power in both your arms—make your legs two pillars of strength? Then just check what you want below. I'll prove you can get it in just 15 minutes a day—in your own home—or it won't cost you a penny!

I don't care if you are 15 or 50 years old—or how ashamed of your present physical condition you may be. I can give you a "barrel chest" and a vise-like grip. I can shoot new strength into your old backbone, exercise those inner organs—help you cram your body so full of pep, vigor and red-blooded vitality that you won't feel there's even "standing room" left for weakness and that lazy feeling. I'll wake up that sleeping energy of yours and make it hum like a high-powered dynamo! You'll feel and look different. Man, you'll begin to LIVE!

WHAT'S MY SECRET?

"DYNAMIC TENSION"! That's the ticket! The identical natural method that I myself developed to change my body from the scrawny skinny chested weakling I was at 17 to my present superman physique! Thousands of other fellows are becoming marvelous physical specimens—my way. I give you no gadgets or contraptions to fool with.

When you have learned to develop your strength through "Dynamic Tension" you can laugh at the artificial muscle-makers. You simply utilize the DORMANT muscle-power in your own God-given body—watch it increase and multiply double-quick into real solid LIVE MUSCLE.

My method—"Dynamic Tension" will turn the trick for you. No theory—so easy! Spend only 15 minutes a day in your own home. From the very start you'll be using my method of "Dynamic Tension" almost unconsciously every minute of the day—walking, bending over, etc.—to BUILD THE MUSCLE and VITALITY you want. And you'll be using the method which many great athletes use for keeping in condition—prize fighters, wrestlers, baseball and football players, etc.
